“ I will always remember the early mornings walking my dog, Henry by your house. He would pull & tug at his leash so he could go to your back door and say ‘good morning’. He would never walk by your house, without stopping by. Even at 5:30am he would go and wait patiently at your back door. Henry is a pretty big dog & he is so stubborn I couldn’t get him to leave until you came to the door with dog treats.

Henry & I miss those early morning visits with you!

Our thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.
