

Amelia Kay Commodore

June 2, 1936 - June 29, 2020

Amelia Kay Commodore, age 84, of Bellingham, passed away on Monday, June 29, 2020. She was born on June 2, 1936 in Chilliwack, BC, Canada to Ernest and Elsie (Balch) Commodore. Amelia attended Seattle Central College and worked at the Lummi Tribal liquor and cigarette warehouse. Amelia loved going to stick games, going to the casino and she faithfully watched Wheel of Fortune and Jeopardy. She was a very strong, fearless, caring, loving, and outgoing person. She loved hard and was very protective over her family and friends. Sometimes she would be the only parent at her girls baseball games and she was their #1 fan. Amelia is preceded in death by her parents Ernest and Elsie Commodore; son Raphael Johnnie; sisters Patricia Commodore and Deanna Commodore; brothers Ernest "Pete" Commodore and Clifford Commodore; and grandson Travis Stremmer. She is survived by her children Carolyn Towksjhea, Patricia Fawcett, Janet Edwards, Connie Benally, Raphaella Johnnie, Lisa Johnnie, Henry Johnnie and Bernice Commodore; 22 grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren and 1 great-great-grandchild. A funeral for immediate family only will be held Wednesday, July 1, at 2:00pm at Moles Ferndale. Graveside services will be Thursday, July 2, at 10:00am at Soowhalie First Nation Cemetery in Cultus Lake, BC, Canada.

“ I am sorry to hear about the passing of Kay. I knew her when she worked for Lummi. And then our sons were born on the same day, same hospital. She always treated me kindly.

“ Many memories. She called my girls (Trish N Tiff) “Her little birds”. On a Mother’s Day many years ago, she said, “I want my little birds right up here beside me” at the dinner table. This one sticks out! I’ll miss her and my prayers out to the fam. Love you all.
