

Clifford Charles Leake

February 3, 1942 - May 18, 2013

Clifford C. Leake, age 71, passed away on May 18, 2013. In 1968, Clifford married the love of his life, Karen Leake, and remained happily married for 45 years.

He was an avid boater, and especially enjoyed vacationing on his boat, and fishing in Alaska and the San Juan Islands. Clifford also enjoyed scuba-diving, riding motorcycles, and spending time with his favorite Old-English sheep dog, Ranger. Early in life, he joined his father as a boom-man on the logs, then established his career at Intalco.

Clifford is survived by his wife Karen Leake of Bellingham, WA and his Aunt Alice. He predeceased by his daughter Kerri Ann Leake (2011) of Bellingham, WA, his parents Ruby and Charlie Leake of Bellingham, WA, and several aunts and cousins. The family would like to extend special thanks to Beth Salas for providing the floral arrangements.

“ I worked with Cliff for years and I think he had more interesting stories than Mark Twain. He squeezed out of life all there was to get. Threaten to tear your head off one minute then want you to play cards an hour later. I miss him and so many others we worked with.

“ To the loving Daughter,Family & Friends, may I offer my sympathy in your painful loss of Jean. Please take comfort in these Verses:
Psalms34:18 “JEHOVAH IS NEAR TO THOSE THAT ARE BROKEN AT HEART AND THOSE WHO ARE CRUSHED IN SPIRIT HE SAVES”
