

Donald "Don" Morris

December 22, 1955 - October 20, 2025

Donald "Don" Morris, 69, of East Liverpool, Ohio, passed away on October 20, 2025, in Bellingham, Washington.

Don was a proud union carpenter who could build just about anything — except maybe a filter for his mouth. He was known for his skill, his hard work, and his ability to tell the same story a hundred times and still make you laugh every single one of them. You never quite knew what was going to come out of his mouth, but you could bet it'd be something worth repeating.

He loved golfing with his son, cracking jokes that made you shake your head, and sharing drinks and tall tales with his friends. Don's humor, loyalty, and heart made him impossible to forget — and impossible not to love.

He is survived by his children, Sean Morris, Adi Morris, and Camie Sadowsky, and by his three grand kids, who were his pride and joy (and frequent targets of his teasing). He now joins his parents, Okey and Ida, and his three sisters — and we're pretty sure the stories have already started back up again wherever he landed.

Don will be remembered for his craftsmanship, his wild stories, his one-liners, and the laughter he brought to every room. His legacy isn't just in what he built with his hands, but in the people who will keep retelling his jokes and shaking their heads, saying, “That was Don.”

A private memorial will be held in Ohio to celebrate his life — and yes, probably tell all his stories one more time for good measure.

“ Don used to call me at least one a week sometimes 2 weeks and check on me when he himself was not in very good shape that was just the type of guy Don was. I will miss his phone calls and a proud 1974 gradute of Beaver Local High School. RIP my good friend. I will miss you buddy.
