

Dr Eric T. Moldver DDS

August 9, 1969 - August 9, 2015

Eric Moldver, cherished father of Kyle Moldver and Lauren Moldver and beloved husband of Jennifer (See) Moldver, died in a tragic accident near Fisher Peak Saddle in the North Cascades of Washington State. He also leaves behind his mother, Judy Moldver; father, Asbjörn Moldver; and brother, Aaron Moldver and wife, Christy and daughters, Danica and Kenzie.

Eric was born and raised in Bellingham, Washington and was a great enthusiast of the surrounding mountains, islands, and seas. He attended Bellingham High School, graduated from University of Washington Dental School, and practiced dentistry at Interfaith Community Health Clinic. He will be missed by a large community of family and friends.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, August 22 at 1:00PM at the Sons of Norway Hall (1419 N Forest St, Bellingham). In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Whatcom Mountain Bike Coalition (WMBC); PO Box 1011, Bellingham, WA 98227.

“ Eric was always supportive and helpful in high school when anyone needed help academically or just a smile. I was sad when he was no longer my personal dentist after he took over for Dr. Frere but so glad he had chosen to work at Interfaith providing his skill and compassion to so many who often have fear of dentists. We sometimes spoke briefly at Project Homeless Connect but I was volunteering elsewhere that week this year and missed seeing him. Eric will be missed by many and I know he lived each day to the full. Blessings to you all in your time of grief. Erin (O'Malley) Maier
