

Jean Elizabeth Carlson

January 6, 1932 - April 4, 2025

Jean E. Carlson was a woman of strength, grace, and deep faith. A devoted wife to Glenn, who passed before her, she now rests beside him—together again, just as they were meant to be. She was the proud mother of Tamara, Linda, and Glenda, the beloved grandmother of Tonya, and the joyful great-grandmother of Gregory Glenn and Whitney Jean.

Her heart was full of music—whether playing the piano or organ, or singing with joy. Jean found beauty in the simple things: a blooming flower, the sound of laughter, the warmth of sunshine. Towards the end of her life, that’s all she asked for—flowers and sunshine. And today, we honor her wish.

She adored animals, especially her beloved Mandy May, and she touched everyone around her with kindness, care, and unwavering love. Her favorite color was purple, and her favorite phrase was, “On with the day.”

Jean's legacy is one of resilience, faith, music, and love. She is deeply missed, lovingly remembered, and forever in our hearts.
