

Jerimiah Lavelle McManmon

September 16, 1981 - September 10, 2025

Jerimiah L. McManmon was born on September 16, 1981 and passed away on September 10, 2025. He will be remembered for his kind, compassionate, and giving nature.

Jerimiah worked as an oyster harvester and enjoyed spending time on the water. He loved searching for creatures wherever he went—whether sharks, snakes, lizards, or alligators. His deep knowledge of animals and his care for his own pets showed his nurturing spirit.

Above all, Jerimiah loved being a dad. Fishing, sharing his love of animals, and helping others were some of his greatest joys.

He is survived by his beloved son, Jameson McManmon; his mother, Bonnie (Attila) Gurciullo; his father, Ron (Susie) McManmon, and his sisters, Jasmine and Francesca Gurciullo.

Jerimiah's family will remember his big heart, his passion for nature, and the love he had for his son.

A private interment was held on Jerimiah's birthday, and a Celebration of Life will be announced for close friends and family at a later date.

“ This one hits home hard. It took us all by surprise and left us wondering how this could have happened. I had the privilege of helping raise Jeremy when I was married to his mother, Bonnie. I first met him at about 4 or 5 years old. He was my first experience at nurturing and raising a little boy. He was always so eager to learn about nature and all of God's creatures placed on this wondrous earth. I remember taking him to the railroad tracks when he was very young and he would love to catch the snakes snuggled in the rocks. He was fearless, and thankfully of course, these weren't poisonous. However, they didn't like to be caught and gave you a bit of a fight before they gave up to capture. I was more scared of them than he was! He always had a love for nature and animals and a kind heart to all. My deepest sympathy goes out to Ron and Susie, Bonnie and Attila, Jasmine and Francesca, and of course his beloved son Jameson. We will all keep Jeremy in our hearts and make sure his son Jameson gets all the love and support during this very difficult time and beyond!. God bless you Jeremy, and I'm glad the pain and anguish has ceased and you have been taken into the arms of your loved ones in Heaven...

“ I am so sorry I never got to meet you here in this world. I am enjoying hearing about the memories you made with your family and I am so sorry for the pain they are feeling for their loss of you. Your son Jameson bears such a strong resemblance to you and I know your family will embrace his upbringing and let him always feel your love. May you be at peace and free of all struggles.
