“ I’m so sorry for the loss of your dear loved one. Words cannot express how you must feel. The bible offers a wonderful hope of the time when tears, death and pain will be no more. (Rev. 21:3,4). May this hope bring you peace, comfort and strength to endure this sad time.

“ Oh Lindy, I am so sorry – I didn’t know about Leonard! (I was out of town that week.) I started working for the City’s Public Works department last month, and went I was touring Ops last week I met someone who’d worked with Leonard and we swapped funny stories about him. That fellow (the City’s sign-maker) is the one who told me Leonard has passed. Everything in his obituary is spot-on. I still remember, with a smile, all the fun we had when he coached our women’s team. (And we were great, right?) Loved riding to tournaments in his rig, socializing the night away over pizza and beer, and listening to him tell jokes and laugh. I am praying for you Lindy, and all his family; you lost a wonderful man far too soon. - Amy Cloud
