“ I am so grateful for the time spent with lori. We skied down mountains,we spent time gardening together, we camped out under the stars,we picked gallons of mountain huckle berries, we drove for hours on backwood logging roads, we walked along beaches,exploring tide pools, writing in the sand. We once battled high surf in a row boat,we swam in the rivers together. We picked flowers for each other, we caught crab at a train trussel. We got stuck in off road adventures. We sat together on mountain tops,we escaped a forest fire.we wrestled in the river mud,we spent time together at the gypsy tree,and so much more. She would push me into the bushes, and say "boys are dumb throw rocks at them" , I didn't mind, all outta fun,she was my sunshine! ,And I love her to the moon and back!❤️ my sincerest condolences
Rest in peace
