Lyle Edward Jacobson

August 16, 1937 – July 18, 2025

Lyle Edward Jacobson, 87, of Sedro-Woolley, Washington, passed away peacefully on July 18, 2025. He was a loving husband survived by his wife Frances (Thomas) married for 68 years. A beloved father, grandfather, great-grandfather, and friend, Lyle lived a life marked by service, craftsmanship, and love for his family and community.

Lyle was born on August 16, 1937, in Bellingham, Washington, to Alfred and Effie (Phillips) Jacobson. After graduating from Bellingham High School, he served proudly in the United States Navy from 1957 to 1963.

A skilled industrial machinist by trade, Lyle was also a master craftsman whose passion extended far beyond his profession. Over the years, he built four homes, multiple boats, and restored ten classic cars. His fine carpentry skills were evident in his cabinet making, and he was well known for his love of car shows, both as a participant and an enthusiast.

Lyle's legacy continues through his children: William "Bill" Lyle Jacobson (Cindy), Kathleen "Kathy" Sue Rosencrantz (Kraig), and Thomas "Tom" Lee

Jacobson (Lori); his grandchildren: Jacob Jerome Rosencrantz (Cynthia), Caitlin Nicole Jacobson, Samantha Royal (Rosencrantz) McMahan (Jesse), and Paul Jerome Rosencrantz; and his great-grandchildren: Trinity Rosencrantz and Asher B. Rosencrantz. He is also survived by many nieces and nephews who loved and admired him.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Alfred and Effie Jacobson, and his sisters Frances (Ernie) Calender and Lucille (Chuck) Stump.

A Celebration of Life will be held on August 16, 2025, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at Cascade Christian Church, 534 Township St., Sedro-Woolley, WA 98284 — what would have been Lyle's 88th birthday. Family and friends are warmly invited to attend and share in honoring a life well lived.

Lyle's hands built things that lasted, but it was his steady heart and quiet strength that built a legacy of love and family that will carry on for generations.
