Marjorie Louise Fullmer Stewart

6/9/1922-4/6/2013

Marge is large and in charge once again: organizing projects at PEO and church, playing bridge with life-long friends, and on the golf course with her beloved Wendell.

Marjorie Louise Fullmer Stewart died April 6, 2013 in Bellingham, Washington. She was born on June 9, 1922 in St. Paul, Minnesota and spent her childhood in So. St. Paul with her parents, Harry and Hazel Fullmer, brother Charles, and sister Isabel. She married Wendell Stewart, a childhood friend, in a typical Minnesota snowstorm on Dec. 28, 1946. They had three children, Jeff, Sally, and Cindy. Wendells work took the family from So. St. Paul to Chicago, Storm Lake, Iowa, and finally Gig Harbor, Washington. A trail of cherished friends followed in each town. They were married for nearly 50 years until Wendells death in 1996.

Marge was preceded in death by husband Wendell, brother Chuck, sister Isabel, brother-in-law Stan Tyler, sisters-in-law Helene Robertson and Laoma Stewart, brothers-in-law Homer Stewart and Ed Robertson. Marge is survived by her three children, Jeff (Connie), Sally, and Cindy (John Sabatini); grandchildren Sandy and Brian Stewart, Drew McIntyre and Casey Klipsch, Lisa and Melody Wilson; two great-grandchildren; sister-in-law Beverly Fullmer; and many nieces, nephews and friends.
