July 20, 1941 - April 19, 2014

Born in Bellingham, Washington

Paul Robert Macbeth July 20, 1941 – April 19, 2014. Paul, a long-time resident of Bellingham passed away with his loving family by his side in Sedro Woolley on Saturday April 19th. He is survived by his sister Judy, kids Carrie, Julie and Lisa, Ryan and Joelle, his grandkids Heath, Kelsey, Nicole, Alexa, Alex, Markus, Jackson, Phoenix and James and many nephews, nieces and friends. As a young adult, Paul got his start plucking chickens at Wallace Poultry. After earning his PhD. in psychology at University of Oregon, he used his rather unique perspective and approach on life to help him become a major contributor to the alcohol/drug rehabilitation community. He was a big proponent of recovery and leading a better life. Dad loved to collect and fix up cars, especially Mercedes Benz, and Citroens – but his biggest love, beyond measure, was his kids and grandkids. He touched and helped countless people with his intuitive nature, generous and loving character. Anyone who knew him would likely remember him as a fun, charismatic, adventuresome and free-spirited guy. He made a difference. “ Paul was my psychologist for about a year in 2002. He saved my life by just listening to my inner broken child. He saved a lot of lives. Rest in peace my friend, I'll never forget you.

“ I haven't been able to view this page since he left. He passed the same exact time within minutes my son James was born, I believe God wanted him on earth for a longer period of time, because he was able to effect people in a way no one else could. He was/ is a gift from God and if I don't recognize him in the physical when James comes back to me, I know I'll see him in heaven. I miss you, Dad. Everyday.

Joelle. I was a "girlfriend" of Paul before you were born. He was an incredible person who changed my life forever. I saw him just before he passed and went to his memorial. I would've to see again the video that your family made of Paul. Maybe Paul is reincarnated in your son. Love to you and your family.

“ Good by dear Paul. You were a dear dear friend. Thank you for all the helpful things you did for me over the years. Especially giving me a set of wrenches and screw drivers for my birthday and constantly helping me get my old Volvo repaired.
